Jobs announced since 2013

“My husband and I immigrated to the UK in 2011 as a direct result of the economic recession. We always said we would move home, and when we started our own family we came to see how different their life would be if we stayed in the UK with the race to get their names down for good schools and the cost of their further education. We decided to move home in May of 2019. This way I was able to return to work and have childcare, something I wouldn't of been able to do in London.

Ireland is buzzing with opportunities. We had more options for schools as well as more choice for after school activities and family days out. We can see the change in Irish employers really understanding the importance of a good work/life balance and giving you the flexibility you need.

It has given me peace of mind for my families future”

Quality Team Lead, Modular Automation

“When making the decision to move to Ireland from South Africa, I was in search of a town that was friendly and accepting of all cultures. I was in search of a career opportunity that would allow me to expand on my people management skills and create positive change and growth. Modular Automation based in Co. Clare was clearly that company and Ennis was clearly the town I was in search of. Ennis has got great facilities from parks for those family days out with the kids to gyms and fitness communities to stay at the peak of my health

Since moving to Clare I find myself having the best work/life balance I have ever experienced.

The community has embraced us and made us feel at home from day one. I received so much support throughout the emigrating process. I am looking forward to my future here in the Mid-West.”
